SUB: Missing Person Investigation – Nicholas Garza

Preparations are underway for the anticipated resumption of a ground search around the Middlebury College campus on Thursday, March 27. While common walkways and open areas have experienced receding snow cover, the continued sub-freezing weather still impedes a wide-area ground search. Further assessments will be made on Wednesday, March 26. In some areas the snow cover consists of solid frozen snow and ice to depths over 18”.

The investigation into the manner and cause of Nicholas Garza’s disappearance continues. No new information has been developed.
